

Neo-Folk Singer Eli Lev To Release Adventurous New EP, Way Out West, To Be Preceded By A Pair Of Singles

Washington, D.C.—With every song, neo-folk singer Eli Lev is bridging divides, fostering connections, and touching lives. This November, Eli will release the singles “One Road” and “Treason” from his artistically adventurous EP, Way Out West, which will be released Friday, December 8th, 2018.

On Friday, December 28th, Eli will celebrate these milestone releases with an album release show at Pearl Street Warehouse located at 33 Pearl Street Southwest, Washington, DC 20024. Here, Eli will perform with his full band, The Fortunes Found, plus special guests. Rounding out the bill for this triumphant performance will be the Hayley Fahey Band.

Way Out West is a futuristic folk EP with bold electronic touches and experimental soundscapes. The EP is the latest in a four-part series that represents an unprecedented artistic feat through offering four distinct viewpoints of folk music, showing that folk is a heartfelt intention and not a genre sound. Previously, Eli released the critically-acclaimed trad folk album All Roads East.

“I really pushed my boundaries on Way out West, and I'm really excited to share these new sounds with the world. In a way, Way out West is nothing like All Roads East, but, to me, they complement and balance each other in their different approaches.” Eli continues: “Also, the songs on Way out West are much more introspective, kind of like the perfect winter album, where you can sit by a window with a coffee or tea and just go on journey with the music.”

The EP's first single, “One Road,” boasts intrepid touches like a detuned mandolin and electronic textures that recall Radiohead more than Bob Dylan. The lyrical content of the piece addresses the folk tradition, how it's evolved, and how it must continue to evolve to stay relevant. Way Out West's follow up single, “Treason,” is a smoldering slice of ambient electro-folk with poignant and poetic lyrics. It will be vibrantly brought to life via an artfully immersive video with stirring political and socio-political overtones.

Alt country sounds filled with subtle twang, haunting vocals and smooth and seductive lyricism” (No Depression). Neo-folk cross between Mumford & Sons ‘Delta’ and The Lumineers ‘Cleopatra’. Lev has opened for Shooter Jennings, appeared at Kennedy Center in DC, been picked up by both Paste & Skope Mags. Touring schedule into 2019 across USA, partnering with Indie Move & SoFar Sounds, and internationally in Spain & France. Radio, podcasts, press, socials – full marketing outreach in progress
